" At Dow I'm just as important to the company as any other employee." - Tom Wesolek

" It (Dow) has also shown me how the real world works." - Kimberly Lawson

Co-Oping At DOW

Kimberly Lawson Co-Op's at Dow Chemical as a technician. She prepares blends of Polymer, tests, and analyze's the data, as part of her job. Kimberly feels Dow has prepared her for the work force because, "It has shown me how to be resourceful, take the initative, and spend my time wisely."

Jimmy Kim, is a Laboratory technician also, and formulates glue using a wide array of chemicals. Jimmy's job isn't what he expected, however, "I expected an extremely challenging and interesting job. But since my duties are so repetitive, I am bored easily."

Tom Wesolek Co-Op's at Dow Corning Medical Products, and his day involves manufacturing, technical laboratory, and computer work. Tom commented that, "I've been exposed to areas of knowledge and I've worked with things most students don't until their out of college, of at all.

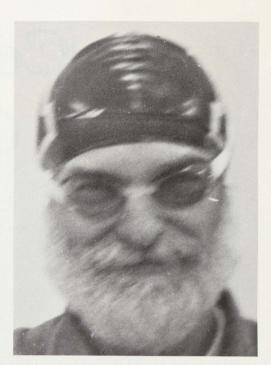

For both Kimberly Lawson and Jimmy Kim, their experience at Dow, has steered them away from a career in Chemical Engineering. "Chemistry and Chemical Engineering are not for me." says Jimmy Kim. But for Tom Wesolek, "I now know that I would enjoy being a Chemical Engineer."

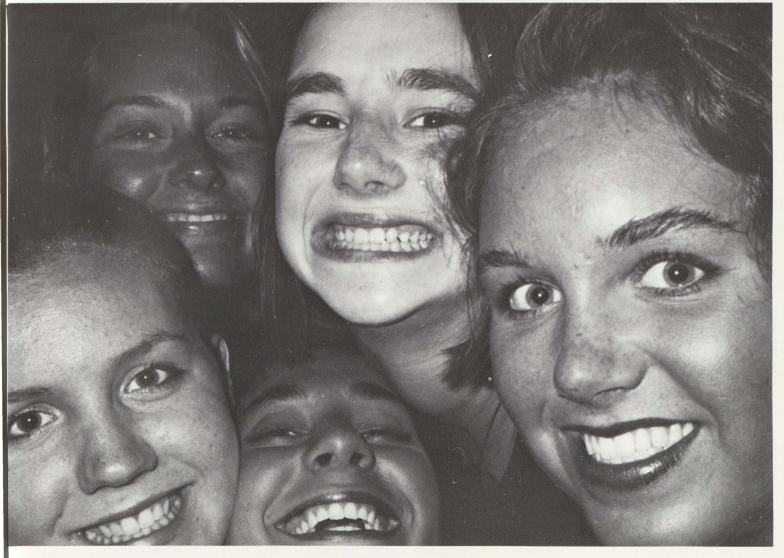

"My job has opened my eyes to actual problem solving and communication." - Jimmy Kim

Center Sparks Creativity

"I am a better actor, speaker, and have more knowledge on technical aspects of theatre, " says Tom Hoffmann, a student at the Center for the Arts and Sciences. "I have learned more about the real world by attending the Center."

"The Center is an incredible school. Each teacher knows how to fine tune the abilities of his or her students." says Kara Harris, who studies Art 2-D. Andy Tyra, who studies Visual Art 3-D, agrees, adding, "The additional time makes for more working time with out interruptions." But what kind of school is the Center for? Dee Lamberston explains that, "It is for serious, talented people who intend to make their field of study their life. Here, you can feel passion towards your field, and people won't laugh at you, because they feel the same way."

Kara Harris comments, "I am able to use materials not available to Heritage. With smaller class size, the teacher works with each individual on a more personal basis." Kindra Silk feels that the Center has improved her skill because, "It has introduced me to several different areas in the Arts that I had no experience in before."

Tom Hoffman adjusts the electrical wires before the production of "God Spell"

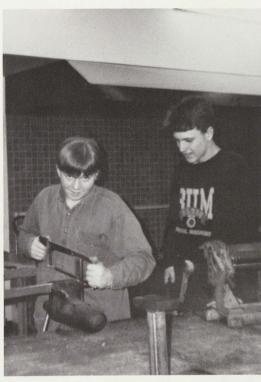

Kindra Silk works on her dragon marionette for an upcoming puppet show.

Violence at Heritage: Is it really as awful as they say?

During this '92-'93 school year, several articles about the violence at Heritage have appeared in the Saginaw News. In Heritage's own newspaper, the Voice, students have read articles about fellow students involved in fatal gun incidents and others arrested here at school for possession of weapons. According to the administration here at Heritage, all of these happenings have been flukes. Abnormal. Unexpected. Never-before. Students would disagree.

Students have heard about the newly-enforced coat rule in complaints from students about stolen coats. However, this was not a new happening, it just occured more frequently than in the past few years. Most of the people here refrain from fighting here at school, but not only because of the strict consequences. They know that there are some students who are known as administrators' "pets" and who they do not dare fight, unless they want to be expelled. This keeps fighting here at a minimum. The Legacy asked a couple of people what they think the state of the school is in terms of violence. Jenny Weiss, a Junior, said that she thinks there aren't many fights because of the threat of the "pets". Jenny went on to say that she thinks the gangs are "doing good." When asked what she meant by that, and Jenny said they don't fight here at school anymore. They take it to places outside of school. Senior Michele Lee said, "The administration knows that there's violence here, but I think they're trying to cover it up and pretend it's not happening. Over all though, I think it's a pretty good school."

There's much more to say and somewhere, sometime it'll all be said. For now, I wish all of the students from Heritage good luck in their futures. I also hope for all of us that we learn to speak out and to be heard on every issue, especially those close to our lives. As for the Saginaw community, one day they'll see that the violence is not a new thing, and maybe then we can start to do something about it.

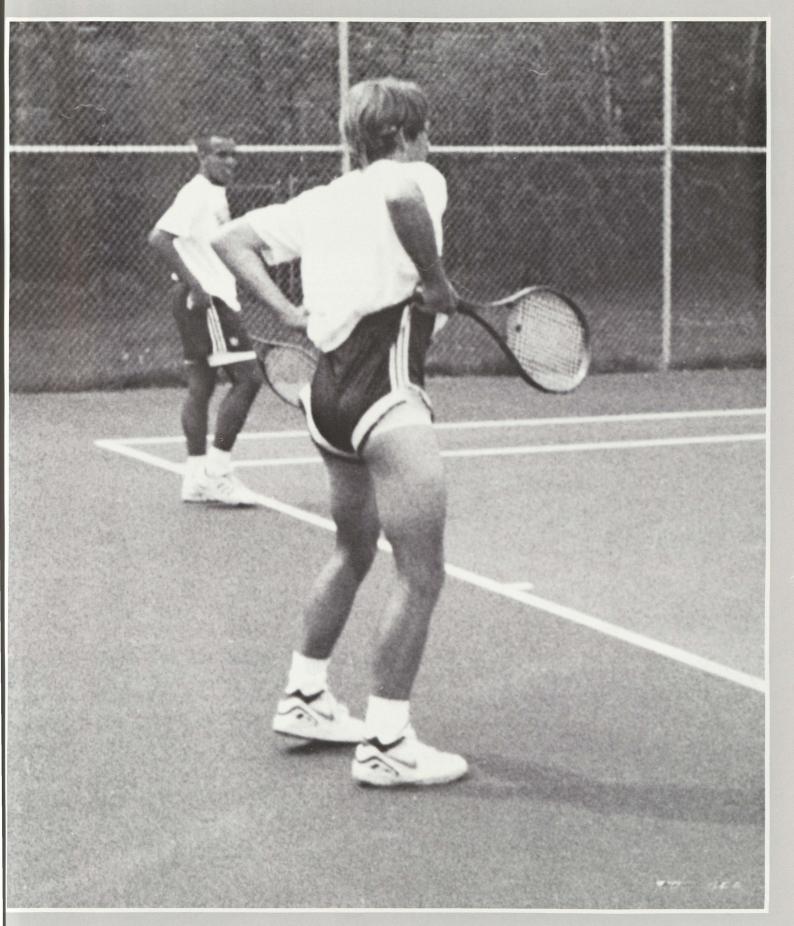

For a Friend

by Sara Jane La Fleur Running through my field of hopes I came across a friend One I had long since forgotten for it was a painful end. We ran through all of our memories of how we used to be the good and bad times that we shared and we giggled with such glee. There's not a day I don't think back at the happiness we shared knowing she was there for me and knowing that she cared. I could never ask for a better friend than she had been to me... I'm just so very sorry that her life ended in tragedy. Although I will never forget those days I know that others will, but I hope everyone remembers that it isn't fair to kill.

Sherry Lynn LaFlure 1977-1992

In loving memory of Sherry LaFlure and her many friends... We will never forget her. Please sign this page as if it were Sherry's freshman yearbook. On behalf of the yearbook staff we know that her life was a bright candle that went out all too soon.

The Turning Points Of Varsity Socce

Varsity Team Successfully Rebuilds

The Varsity soccer team felt a lot of pressure following in the footsteps of the 1991 state runners up. Even though individual talent may have been equal to last year, these players were not accustomed to playing with each other as a team. With the added pressures of the parents, coaches , and officials watching how this team compared to the team of 1991 it seems understandable that there would be added pressures felt by the individual players. Taking all this into consideration 9-9-2 record is very good. ."This was a great team who never gave up and kept on striving," says coach Bill Hartle. Soccer is a game but much easier to play as a player or coach as a coach, but when you are on the winning edge all the time, it takes much more fortitude to stay in there competing when you are the under dog.

The Junior Varsity soccer team had a successful season coached by Karsten Schlenter. Their overall record was 6-6-2, with great offense by Chris Simon and great defense by Jeff Minnis. Look out in the future for most improved player Matt Makherjee and Scott Slade who received the team player award. Throughout the Hawk's season, they came up upon a lot of competitive teams but these players never gave up!

The 1992 Freshman soccer team played nine games coached by Bob Kelsey and John Ayala. Their record stood as 2 wins, 7 loses, and 0 ties. For the second year of the Freshman team, their record does not seem impressive but one fact should be considered: all but two of the competitors were older. They were all at junior varsity level. "Our team was very competitive." says Bob Kelsey, coach. The team was always trying and hung in there until the last minute. They played many teams that were physically larger in size as well as mentally more experienced. Even some teams did not play by the rules. They thought roughness and toughness would make them win.

Defeat and Victory; a year of Improvement

The Hawks had a successful season this year. They developed a stronger team, as well as talented players. Varsity football tied the best record in Heritage history with six wins, and three losses. The three losses were to playoff teams.

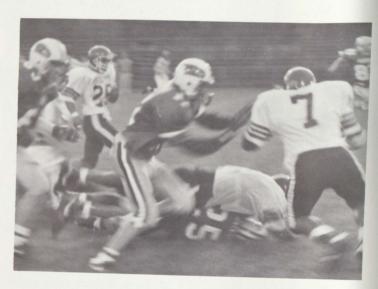

Besides team accomplishments, individual players also showed their strengths. Brandon Karas set a Heritage High School record for most field goals in a season. Team captains were Brian Jacobi, Eric Hudberg and Jamie Bauer. Most valuable player awards were given to Brian Jacobi for offense, Jim Hayes, defense and offense linesman, Eric Hudberg. Defense back was given to Brad Gomoluch.

All Conference Team members include Eric Hudberg, Jamie Bauer, Brian Jacobi, Brandon Karas, Jim Hayes, Brad Gomoluch, and Matt Grigg.

The team put forth a tremendous amount of effort this year and had one of the best seasons in a long time. Although they lost their Homecoming game against Mt. Pleasant, they did not let it affect their team sprit and went on to win against Pinconning. The Varsity team has had a year of growth and can only move on to bigger and better things next year.

FRESHME

Slight Improvement from last year

Unfortunately, the freshman only had one victory in their season. Their victory was against Pinconning with a score of 26-14. They also had a tie against Garber in their record. When asking team members about their most memorable moment during the season, Marty Maturen replied, "The bus ride home from Brighton, that got our banquet canceled due to poor sportsmanship." Although the team was not very successful, it was an experience. Coach Lent is hoping that the in-coming freshmen have better luck. Better luck next year to the in-coming freshmen.

J. V. This year, Junior Varsity had a flip flop season. Their record dropped form last year sufering a blow from loss of vaulable players to Varsity such as Brad Gomoluch and Matt Grigg. Their record consisted of four wins and five losses. They had some tough competition and when they did, they fought the battle and tried their best. They captured their victories by large margins, beating Buena Vista 27 to 0, and Bridgeport 26 to 0. Their coach Mr. Jim Kurtz is hoping the records will improve for this next upcoming season.

The Juinor Varsity team looks promising for next year, learning a great deal from their mistakes this year.

A Hawk player tackles his opponent a little to late.

Basketball

"Conniving, motivated, tough, dedicated," were the words junior Kristy Kelly used to describe Heritage's new Varsity coach. Tim Conley took over Mike Donahue's position this year.

Being a first year Varsity coach, Conley couldn't have asked for much more. His lady Hawks finished their season with an overall 14 and 6 record, also capturing the White Pine Championship. This is also the last year the Hawks can be named "White Pine Champions" since the conference is breaking up at the end of this year.

The girls started out their season with a well deserved victory over Bay City Central in overtime, 40-36. That was the first time in a number of years that the Hawks beat Central. Two games later the Hawks met up with Western (ranked) and suffered a heartbreaking loss. This loss could have well been a motivator for their next games because they came out strong and won the next eight games consecutively. Their only other losses of the season were to Midland Dow, Mt. Pleasant (1 and 1 split), Central (1 and 1 split), Saginaw High and Bay City Western.

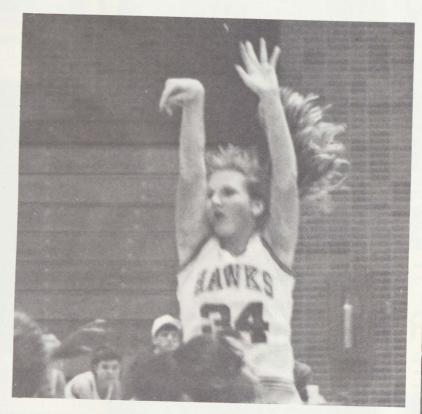

The lady Hawks finished districts early, unfortunately, losing their first game to rival Bay City Central. Central moved on to play Saginaw High, winning only by the small margin of 4 points. BCC lost their next game to Flint Northwestern.

All of their hard practices certainly paid off.

The girls that made up the 1992 season were seniors Amy and Heather Long, Karen Dice, Sarah Sobol, Debbie Danilowicz, Caryn Jonker, Nicole Nuckolls, Juniors Sara Van Wormer, Stephanie Craig, Jodi Berlin, Kristy Kelly, Mandi Wise, and sophomore Beth Sandon. Credit can also be given to Erin Nigl and Mandi Neuenschwander who were brought up from J.V. for districts.

"Our practices were very intense. Conley pushed for 100% all of the time and if wasn't givenit, we were on the line. Defensive slides were also one of his favorites." -Jodi Berlin

The 1992 Junior Varsity Girls Basketball team learned a lot about team work and working together to reach a common goal this year. The season started off rough with a two point loss at the hands of Bay City Central. Sophomore forward Torey Flynn said, "It took a while but we finally came together as a team." The team learned a lot about each other and worked really hard to make the season a success.

They learned many valuable skills that helped them along the way. Julie Vance added, "We learned that you need to practice like you'd play in a game. You couldn't have a bad practice and expect to play well in a game."

They ended their season with a record of 9 wins and 8 losses. The leading scorer was Julie Vance and the rebounds were collected by Mandy Neuenschwander, Torey Flynn, and Sandy Mossner. The whole team played outstanding team defense.

Julie Vance drives the lane on a breakaway.

With a 15 and 1 record, the frosh have nothing to be ashamed of! Their only loss was suffered to Nouvel, who they split with, beating them the first time around. You can bet these girls will be adding to the Varsity program in a few years. This year Coach Pugh had to work with all of the girls by himself since there were no A and B teams. He handled it very well and Sandy Mossner gets up in an attempt to should be confident for next season.

VARSITY TENNISTEAN

The Varsity tennis team had a very successful season. They had a dual meet record of eight wins and three losses; and a conference record of three wins and zero losses. The team had an average of two meets a week, tournaments on the weekends, and practices whenever they didn't have a meet. So there social time was pretty much cut out for the season. Cyra Malik quoted,"I spent a lot of time practicing, but it was worth it. I feel I improved a lot over the season." "The team was a lot of fun, but Mr. Quinn made it even more interesting," quoted Sarah Blanchet. Maya Prasad qouted, "The tournaments were a lot of fun. I met a lot of fun people. " Andrea Mosca qouted," I am looking forward to another fun season next year." Coach Quinn is looking forward to seeing a lot of the girls back on the courts next year. You did a terrific job girls. The Junior Varsity tennis team had a fair season with a record of six wins and six losses. They had matches an average of two to three days a week, tournaments on the weekends, and tough practices on the days that they didn't have a match. When asked what hte most memorable part of the season was, most girls stated, "The tournaments. We made a lot of friends, and it was also a good learning experience." Michele Lang also stated, "The long and hard practices were worth it. By the end of the season, I felt that I had learned a lot and have greatly improved." At their banquet, awards were given out to Jena Vanvlaenderen to MVP. Tasha Stankiewicz for MIP, and Molly Tyner received the coaches award. Coach Mr. Teal qouted, "I am looking forward to next season. I hope to see all the girls back out on the courts. " Good luck next season girls!

Girls' Varsity Swimming and Diving

Girls varsity swimming and diving had another successful year. With a lot of teamwork and many long practices, they were prepared for the season. They ended it by winning 9 out of 11 meets.

The completed renovations on the pool attracted many spectators and helped the swimming season run smoothly.

Congratulations to Sarah Brandt, Jodi Bray, Erin Ford, Kara Kaltenbach and Tammie Spatz who qualified for state finals. Tammie Spatz was selected as an All-American.

The team rounded of the year by defeating Bay city Western in the Tri-City Championships after leaving the meet in supposed second place, only to have the score recalled and declared the winners by half of a point! Also, at Tri-Cities the team of Brady Countryman, Mark Pankonin, Nahtan Hall, and Anthony Yaksic qualified for the Class A State Swim Meet in the 200 Freestyle Relay with a time of 1:31.56.

Varsity Wrestling Pins 'Em Down

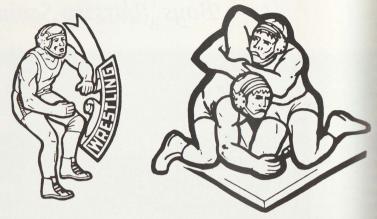

The wrestling team had a new coach to get used to this year: Coach D. It's rumored he was tough, but once the guys got used to his style he turned out to be better than previous coaches. There was another surprise for the team to get used to, also.

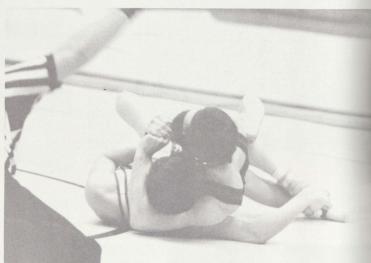

The knee brace Scott Lee wore. It was a plastic and metal contraption he was forced to wear for medical reasons, and it turned out to be helpful to him. His teammates say he used the brace to clobber opponents in the head when they attempted to get hold of his knees. It proved to be effective with oppenents, because the ref couldn't refuse to let him wear it, and teammates, when they wrestled at practices.

Another eventful happening this past year was the smell of a can of mace that was dropped into the guys' locker room (members of the swim team are the prime suspects here, although it also could have been the basketball team.) One member of the wrestling team reported walking into the locker room to find all the guys "gagging and puking" all over. Retaliation can be expected next season.

The worst injury of the season turned out to be a sort of cruel prank when an opponent purposefully dislocated Adam Kelly's shoulder at a meet. Adam quickly swung his arm around, snapped his shoulder back in place, let out a howl of pain, and then went on about his business.

Numerous other pranks were part of the normal routine with these guys, and extends to giving each other crazy nicknames. Mike is refered to as "Abnormal", Adam M. is called "Foreskin", J.R. is said to be "Little Hud", Brendt answers to "Leroy", and Mike G. is "THE fish". Further pranks can be looked forward to next year, too. And these guys do not extend sympathy to silly Freshmen who are dumb enough to make fun of big Seniors shut up in lockers, either.

THE SKI TEAM'S TURNING EDGE

Both Varsity teams had a super year. Both units finished 3rd in the Divisionals which qualified them for League. In League and in Regionals they found awsome competition. Although both teams preformed well and Heritage can be proud of the finishes in League and in Regionals it doesn't show the great effort that our skiers put forth. No matter what, everybody was out there trying to point of being to aggressive such as Jenny Mayer and Jim Ross either by missing a couple of gates or falling. This usually disqualifies the person. Special honors were awarded to Aaron Patrzik and Jenny Mayer for the most valuable skiers and the coach's award went to Dave Winters and Cheri Corbin.

This was an all day event held at Pine Knob. The boys in this event had the lowest combined score anyone there has seen in years! Top skier for the boys was Ian Vondrasek and Cory Herzler for the girls. Although, the girls showed very good promise, and where new at this type of competition they showed steady improvement throughout the season.

The Turning Season of Varsity Baseball

Varsity Baseball

Varsity Baseball had an outstanding season. They won the Saginaw Valley League Championship and ended thier season with a record of 20 wins and 9 loses. In the earlier parts of the season, the Hawks split with the number eight ranked team in the state, Mt. Pleasant, and the number two ranked team Midland Dow. Although, much effort was put forth the team lost to Midland Dow in a predistricts. No matter what, the team had no trouble taking on some top ranked teams in the state such as, Bay City Central, Western, and Midland Dow. As a resolt to there season they becam ranked 10th in the state!

With an average of four long and hard two hour practices a week and double header games two to three days a week, the Varsity Softball teams time was pretty much taken. Not to mention the strenuous tournaments they participated in during the weekends. But according to members on the team, all the hard work during practicespaid off after winning predistricts and moving on to districts and having a good chance at district finals. It wasa young team, and everyone had their days. "Everyone worked hard for everything we did. It was always a team effort. There was never just one person blamed," quoted Karen Dice. Coach Lent quoted, "I feel this season prepared a lot of the girls for the Varsity teamnext year. Twins Make The Difference

Heather and Amy Long -- who can tell them apart?

Twins are Turning Heads

Your eyes are okay. It's just one of Heritage's many sets of twins. What is it like to have a twin? Most were in agreement that it was nice. Having a twin meant always having a friend, and someone your own age to do things with.

Senior Nicole Garrison commented, "You don't have to worry about finding someone to do things with when you go on vacations."

When asked what advantages came with being a double, Senior Amy Long said, "I get twice the clothes and we help each other with homework." And what does her better half say? Heather Long states, "It's fun to confuse friends and our parents."

But advantages also come with disadvantages, as Amy Long explains, "We are together all the time. Sometimes we get sick of each other."

Many agreed being called the wrong name is frustrating, even for Juniors Heidi and Heather Kern, who are not identical. Being cheated out of gifts at Birthdays and Christmas also plagued many twins. Junior Michelle Abesamis comments, "Getting one present for both of us to share is disappointing."

Senior Scott Garrison says, "Nicole takes all of my clothes!"

Though a lot of people have the misconception of all twins being close, Juniors Cara and Joel Lutey are just the opposite. Cara explains, "Our parents treat us differently. They think since were twins, everything should be equal. We're always fighting."

Joel Lutey agrees, saying, "I'd rather just be brother and sister."

Junior Heather Kolbe also comments, "You always get less presents, because people have to buy for two people."

Sophomore Becky Hoppe shares her positive view on being a twin, "It's nice to share your birthday's because we get two cakes and I think we get more presents, because they don't want to give one twin more than the other."

Amy and Heather Long continue, "We're very close, we can tell each other anything."

One of the other joys of being a twin is the tricks you get to play on other people.

Junior Rachel Abesamis explains that, "When we were in the tenth grade, we switched Spanish and English class. It was so fun, nobody knew, not even the teachers!"

Heather and Heidi Kern said, "We like to pretend to be each other on the phone. We do it a lot."

Heather Kern reminisces when, "I was two years old, I got lost in the mall. When they asked what I looked like, they held up my sister. Then, everyone thought they had found me, but it was Heidi."

One question twins get asked a lot, is if they share any mental telepathy. Amy and Heather Long responded, saying, "When we dance, we know what each other is thinking."

Heidi and Heather Kern also had a similar experience. Heather explains, "Heidi had surgery on her knee, and mine also hurt at the same time."

As far as timing goes, the Longs, Garrisons, Nuckolls', and Abesamis' made their debut in one minute. But the Poags' took their time, with an hour and a half between them. I guess Justin just wasn't ready to brave the world yet.

This year's Homecoming Dance was a great success. We had a turnout of 800 Guys and Dolls who danced the night away. Though the temperature outside was below normal, inside it was heated up with the dancers energy. The DJ received positive feedback from the students. He played a wide variety of music from the Chicken, to Guns-N-Roses. This year's Homecoming will be a night to remember.

The French/Spanish Club, SADD, and German Club each had a booth, also. The highlight of the Winter Carnival, though, were the various competitions. Saginaw News Staff Yoni Pozner

More than 5,000 enthusiastic supporters of the Arkansas governor cheer, chant and clamor during his rally Sunday, Oct. 25, at Bliss Park. They erupt when Clinton pledged that he wants "to investigate our children, their problems, their promise and their future." "That's what this election ought to be about," he said. Clinton asked voters "to cross the borders between race, region and income" by voting Democratic during the Tuesday, Nov. 3, election. Backers of Republican George Bush and independent Ross Perot — while vastly outnumbered — held their ground and their signs. Saginaw News Staff Robin L. Buckson

Clubs/Organizations

Throughout the year the foreign language clubs have participated in many events to make Heritage a more lively place. One big event that lasted all week is foreign language week. This was April 5-9. During this week the many people and teachers did a lot to make foreign languages noticed at our school. It started off with lunches from different parts of the world. For example, Italian and German foods were featured. To rap things up, all languages preformed a skit which entertained everyone.

French and Spanish Clubs consists of an eight member board. They are Joe Burn, Eric Brenner, Kristy Kelly, Stacy Silk, Paige Thompson, Nicole Nuckells, and Anthony Gugino. Starting off the year they took part in Homecoming. This they entered a float in the long walk to Heritage. Later on came a shopping spree and a ski trip. The main reason for the club is to help support a little girl in Mexico. Selling candy, made all the events possible for the club. At the end of the year they went to a Spanish and French restaurant. This has been tradition to do in the past. In the long run, all these events make the language classes more interesting

On the other hand, the German Club went about there own things. In the fall they had a Christmas bazaar, which was a fund raiser. They sold advert calenders and took a field trip to MSU for the White Rose Exhibition. It was a student resistance group formed to protect Hitler's regime in Germany from 1942-1993. This was the fiftieth anniversary of this event. From the kids point of view the trip to MSU was the most exciting event all year.

Another club on their was the Latin Club. President Matt Lewis, vice president Misty Schramke, treasurer Angie Norris, and secretary Julie Smith. In September, a slave action was done as a fund-raiser. This was where the new members were sold to the old. They entered a float in the Homecoming parade, had a booth at Winter Carnival, and also participated in Spring Fever. At Christmas time they had a Satarnalia party and at the end of the school year, they went on a canoe trip. All in all the clubs had fun with all the events they participated in.

Teacher involvement wirh Mr. Meyers and the Latin Club is a plus.

"Latino Awareness Organizatons's first year was very successful. Our goal was to educate the student body and staff on issues that concerned Latinos, and minorities in general. Two successful "Youth Forums" were held this year and enlightened many people. A Shadowing program was planned for 8th graders. The work here is not done however, there is still a long wasy to go; but with the support of students and staff alike L.A.O. hopes to calm racial tensions and bring understanding to Heritage."

On March 20, 14 students competed in the 1993 team competition at GMI Engeering and Management Institute. The Varsity team finished first in the state. The J.V. team finished third in the state. On April 22, 1993 the Varsity team competed in the National Team's competition. Out of the 46 different schools across the nation, HHS came in third place. Congratulations!

The Science Olympiad had a very successful year. On March 28, fifteen students from Heritage went to the Regional Science Olympiad at Delta College. After being in the Science Olympiad for four years at Heritage, they finally beat Reese and received first place. On April 24 they went to Michigan State University for state competion, which was led by Nancy Burnham. This years Science Olympiad was a tremendous success. Good Job!

DECA: The Students Turn

This year at Nationals thirteen HHS students attended a leadership conference and three students participated in competition. Nationals were held in Orlando, Florida. Amy Reynolds placed in the top ten of the nation in her category, Full Service Management.

While in Florida the students went to Universal Studios, Sea World, and Epcot Center. The students also got a chance to lay out in the sun and meet people from all over, Alaska, Texas, Puerto Rico, and Hawaii.

"Those Wild and Crazy Guys": Drama Club

"Having a student-written play was a good experience. I thinkwe shouldbe proud of our club & the plays we produce, hopefully next year we can get more members." Dee Lambertson, V.P.

"This was a great year especially with the interesting adventures during 'Kangaroo On A Humid Autumn Evening.' It was a great experience and a pleasureto work with Dee, Matt, & Erich." HeatherJ. Clark, Sec.

"Working on the Talent Show had to have been the highlight of the year, although Erich's quant little Arm & Hammer and Cool Whip strip tease on the set of 'Kangaroo' ran a close second. At least I wasn't caughtembezzling funds. Talk hard." Matthew J. Schutt, da treasurer

'Kangaroo', well it was one crazy year for Drama Club members. This year they were busy producing two successful plays. The Crucible, and Kangaroo On A Humid Autumn Evening were the akward choices. Mr. Jim Royale directed Arthur Miller's famous play The Crucible. Being the Fall play 'Crucible' was fairly successful, and the Drama Club was quite proud of this first production, and could only look forward to the next play. Stepping into uncharted waters the board members of the club, (Erich Brown-President, Dee Lambertson-Vice President, Heather J. Clark-Secretary, and Matthew J. Schutt-Treasurer) decided to try something never before seen at Heritage, let alone the area, they decided to produce a student written play. 'Kangaroo' was a land marking event, and also was it's writer-director-producer. Matthew J. Schutt took it upon himself to write the play, then when no one else stepped forward to direct or produce, he took that upon himself too. The Drama Club had a busy year, and with several more student written productions possible in the future, next year's board members (Ebru Yonak-President, Dee Lambertson-Vice President, Kristen Schutt-Secertary, and Lauren Lambertson-Treasurer) will have their hands full.

The Heritage High Outdoor club went for a "weekend camp" on the Big Manistee River. On a sunny, comfortable Friday in October the group departed for Grayling for a weekend of relaxation and fun. The weekend plan was to go twenty-six miles by canoe. The twenty canoes progressed while dodging many trees, stumps, shallow spots and animals. Although a few members bell prey to the frigid water, the club returned safely.

Members of PRIDE work at solutions to problems here at Heritage.

A new committee was born in '92 - a committee started for the students, by the students - PRIDE. PRIDE recruited one representative and one stand-in rep from every firtst hour around the beginning of the year. A chairperson, student assembly liason, recorder, and administrative liason were elected to get things rolling. They were, in order, Marisa Tesauro, Mark Zarazua, Paula Terachas, and Mr. Rutledge. Then the group split up into three individual committees called Nuts n' Bolts, Creating School Spirit(HYPE), and How To Be Invovled. Marisa and Paula headed Nuts n' Bolts, which dealt with odds and ends, the smoke-in-the-bathrooms problem, litter on campus, etc.. HYPE, led by Karen Jonker and Anne Hartl, discussed ways to get more pride into students. How To Be Invovled basically worked on just that, by doing things like busing students to away games. PRIDE had an extrememly successful year sponsoring assemblies, writing the Code of Respect, getting a hall monitor hired, convincing more students to come to basketball games by letting them in free if they wore blue and green, and convincing the ladies in the kitchen to add vegetarian dishes to the menu.

PRIDE also started work on many more worth-while projects that will hopefully be finished in '94.

During the spring, SADD members left class one day and went out to the student parking lot. There they placed a flower with this note attached under the wipers of each car.

SADD officers were: President: Tina Saycosie; Vice President: Janel Sowa; Secretary: Laureena Thepveera; Treasurer: Jinda Keopunna.

SADD wants us all to know that they are not just another cheesy organization here at Heritage. They grabbed our attention and showed us that they were different using their creativity, and making some noise. Literally.

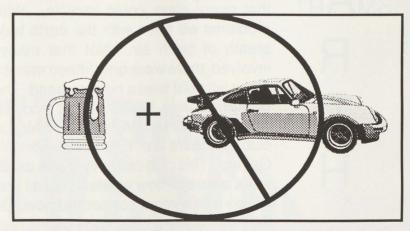

For an entire day SADD had a bell rung every 22 minutes, which was twice each class period. Many students were puzzled as to the reason for the bells. The chime of the bell represented one drunk driving accident. In the spring, SADD got out attention by leaving flowers with notes attached on the windshield of every car in the student lot. They also sponsored an assembly held for Juniors and Seniors about drinking and driving.

SADD president Tina Saycosie said, "The chapter was really young this year, so there were fresh minds and ideas working together. A lot of things were done to show the school that we were not just another cheesy organization-we are really trying to make a difference. Hopefully the next year's SADD group will continue to do good work."

"I liked going to the meetings-I looked forward to them, because you walked in and everyone was smiling at you and saying hi. It was like a group of friends. Everyone made me feel good about being there." Tina Saycosie, President

ENVIRONMENTAL CLUB

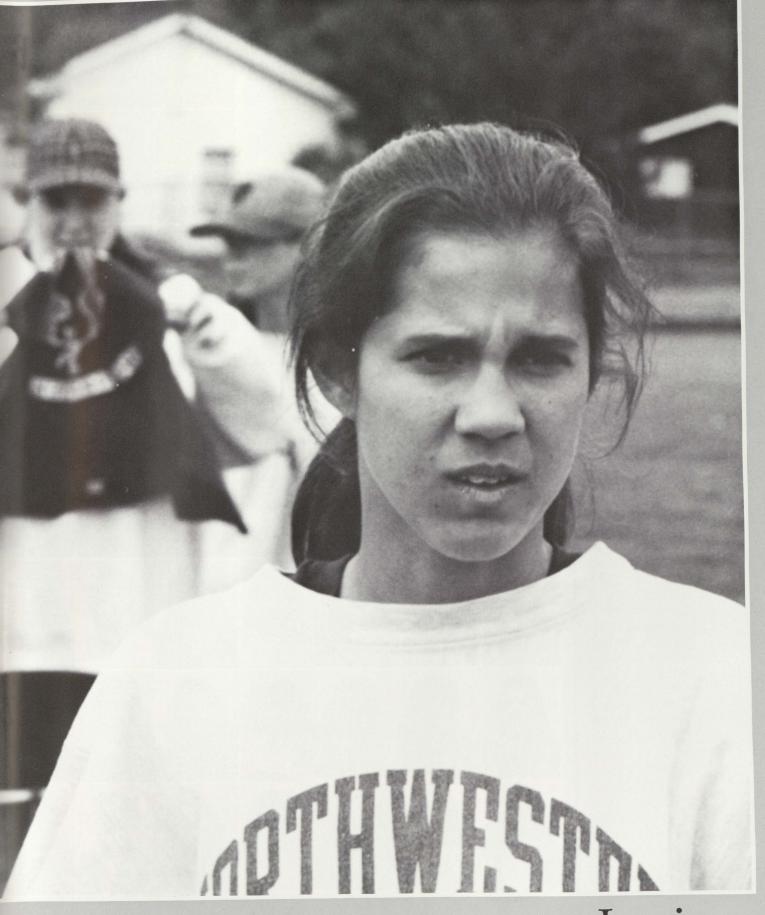

This is one of many recylce bins that were purchased to help every class here at Heritage to join in and recycle.

BE SMART

RTU

This year here at Heritage found us turning out many new things. Not such is a club known as the Environmental Club, they have been around, just not noticed. But this year they have pushed their way to the view of many students here at Heritage. This year the club purchased recycle bins, so that every class could recycle. With the environmental problems we have with the earth today, this club was a breath of fresh air. Not that many students became involved, there were only fifteen members, but there were those who did lend a helping hand. The officers are: Molly Barker, Marcie Makariewicz, and Steve Woods. The advisors were Mr. Williams, and Mr. Larsen. Some other club members are: Eric Dunn, Ebru Yonak, and Anthony Gugino. This club certainly made us all here at HHS a little more aware of how wasteful we all are, perhaps students will be a little more concerned now. Only those who think they can make a difference can.

The class covers ways to communicate between each other and is programmed to prepare students for future careers. Other requirements in the class include poetry readings, and mock interviews with local employers.

The Year Of The Juniors?

Could it be that this is the year that the Juniors took over the role of the Seniors of Heritage High? Are you in doubt?

The president of the Drama club is Junior Erich Brown. Juniors Jenny Rifkin and Ryan Kelly were in charge of the Homecoming dance. Four out of the five students to take the Even many of the sports' team captions are Juniors, including co-captains of the J.V. Ski team, Cheri Corbin and Jenny Mayer. The newspaper and yearbook editors are both Juniors by the names of Louisa Buzon and Lauren Lambertson. Junior Ryan Sedlar leads the marching band. There are many more examples. If this is the year of the Juniors, can you imagine what the class of '94 will be capable of in their Senior year?!

Mock Rock Turns Out an Interesting Evening

Mock Rock a Success

This year's Mock Rock took place once again at Heritage on March 20th. The whole event was organized by co-chair persons, juinors Jenny Rifkin. and Ryan Kelly. With the help of many working students, teachers, and even some parents, the gym was magically transformed into a hip-hopping musical stage. The music was supplied by Heritage's own D.J., Mike D. The lip-sync competition featured several interesting performances, not to mention the even more interesting titles chosen by the groups.

Coming out on top was the fast beat and well choreographed act Upper Classmen who performed in glow in the dark costumes. Following were last years champions Chicken Crusaders who performed a comical medley of such songs as Minimum Wage, Three Little Fishies, and I Want to Marry My Mom. Then in third place came new comers 2-Hype. After the lip sync competition prizes were raffled off that were donated by local businesses such as WIOG.

All in all, the other groups that performed had a lot of fun, participating and the huge audience that attended seemed to enjoy it as well. Mock Rock was an event enjoyed by all.

Turning Out Bigger and Better Sounds

This year the girls travelled to many different places to present performances. Besides preforming at their Christmas and Spring concerts, they also performed at the Court Street Art Fair, Levi's Saloon, and a few churches. Aside from preparing their own choreography, and costumes, the girls also perform several solos through-out the year at such gatherings as the class Honor Banquets. As their final exams the girls must perform a solo.

This year's Christmas Concert was quite entertaining. Musical arrangements of several favorite Christmas songs were performed, as well as an acapela arrangement of "Carol Of The Bells".

At this year's Spring Concert a medley from The Secret Garden, a musical now running on Broadway, was the main piece. The girls traveled down to Detroit to the Fisher Theatre to enjoy the real performance. In addition to the Secret Garden, they also performed a medley from the block buster hit movie Sister Act. They also performed such songs as "Last Night Of The World", from Miss Siagon, "Both Sides Now", and a semi-acapela version of "Lollipop".

The girls had a fun year, and worked hard. This year they improved their act a lot, and hopefully next year the same improvements will be seen.

This year's Varsity chior did an excellent job performing the hit smash musical Cats. Although they did not win any awards this year at the annual Fest-i-Val Show Chior competion, they still lived up to the audiences expectations. They were busy all year performing at different places such as Hemmeter school, the Festival of Trees, and at the Court Street Art Fair. ALong side Cats, they also performed a medley from Jekle and Hyde, during a silde show of the past four years, it was a tribute to this years graduating seniors. The chior grew a lot in talent this year, although some major voices with the likes of Dina Harrison and Jancie Teliczan were absent. This year Nicloe Hazen stepped forward to fill some empty shoes, and performed the solo "Memory" from Cats with a very lovely voice. She also performed the senior's class song at graduation "I Will Remember You". The Varsity Choir had a lot to show this year, and hopefully next year's class will be able to fill their shoes.

It's A Beautiful Day In The Band Today! Mr. Valasek's Neighborhood

'92-'93 was a year of firsts for the Heritage Band, and it all began with two summer rehearsals and a week at band camp. Rehearsal time for the Marching Band was intense, especially at band camp where they marched and played for over eight hours a day. One may wonder why they spent so much time preparing for football games, but football games were only half of the performances for the marching Hawks. The other half were various competitions and parades, for this was the Marching Band's first of many years in the M.C.B.A. (Michigan Competing Bands Association)

The Marching Band was not the only group to experience some changes. The jazz band was bigger and better this year and had many opportunities to play at lunch and around the community. Other additions to the curriculum were highly successful ensembles such as the Woodwing Quintet, the Percussion ensemble, a flute trio, and a clarinet-flute duet.

Heritage's Orchestra Class had a full schedule for their second year of existence. It all started on Halloween when the Freshmen orchestra students participated in a string clinic in Greenville where they had the opportunity to play for guest conductor Jeff Buchert from Midland. A string quartet made up of Terrie and Conrad Chen, Amanda Gomoluch, and Brian Churchill entertained the crowd at Fall Honors Night. The following Saturday, the orchestra hustled out to Eastern Michigan University for orchestra day where they played for another guest conductor, Kevin Miller, who is from EMU. The orchestra spent the day attending clinics and workshops, and rehearsing for the concert held that night, in which all area high schools participated. The schedule went on and on to include several more concerts, activity nights here at Heritage, road trips to local festivals, and even a bus trip to Chicago. To get to Chicago they held several fund raisers, including a car wash and pink flamingo fund-raiser. After riding for six hours on a crowded bus, they reached Chicago where the first thing on the agenda, sadly, was not a shower. Congratulations to all of you for keeping your heads, and for being such a delight to our ears.

Early this year, the orchestra invited a guest, Stanley Chepaitis, to work with them, teaching them new techniques and helping them with the piece they were working on.

The Color Guard was a new addition to the music department. They started the year off right by atending band camp along with the band to learn how to use their flags and to get accustomed to color guard choriography with the help of a lady named Maria. The Color Guard performed with the band at football games, competitions, and parades. They performed to the Heritage fight song and the theme song from "Coach" in parades, and to Billy the Kid in all other performances. Their costumes were made by helpful mothers of the Color Guard members and band students: Cheryl Schutt, Pamela Freier, Nancy Klomp, Caroline Cook, and Laurie Valesek. Altogether, they had four outfits, with a colorful flag for each. The captain of Color Guard was Becky Potter; the co-captain was Sara Cunningham.

Kids and Music:

Everyone Gets Involved

Violet Shadow performs at the Capital Cafe

This year at Heritage we found that many of the kids were showing all that they had to offer. A new experience this year was "AlmostPalooza", this was the first time there was so to say a "concert" here at HHS. Not only were all the bands composed of students and former students, but it was also produced by students. There are many well known bands from Heritage, such as Violet Shadow (Jeff Lear, Dave McHale, Chris Gober, and grads Dina Harrison, and Tom Romitto), Simon Pure (the well known Jason Lechiner, and Phil Smith), and the former Carpet (Carson Coates and grad Kris Skentzos). Now Carson has gone solo. It all started out last year sometime when a bunch of musically talented kids got together their money and decicded to see how much a concert would cost. Well, they found a spot "The Underground", behind Rodeitchers in Freeland and it began. Kids from all over came to hear this "alternative" sound. Eventually location changed and they moved it to Jamestown Hall on Swan Creek Rd., it still goes on and kids love it. All the bands have tapes available, and t-shirts. This "sound alternative" was like a breath of fresh air after listening to only Top 40 music.

ducer was sophomore Dee Lambertson. The cast of twenty-one included Heritage students and, to the surprise of many, a pair of HHS math teachers. Mr. Brown played the role of Deputy Governor Danforth, and Mr. Garn portrayed Judge Hawthorne. The set proved to be an obstacle, as it used the lighting system for GOBOS (images projected on the wall). The theater had originally been designed for this system twenty years ago, but it had not been used. The play dealt with the subject of betrayal and witchcraft, and took place on Friday 13th and Saturday 14th. The production received excellent reviews, although it faltered a bit in the last act, and the love that should have been obvious between John Proctor and his wife Elizabeth was lost. Nonetheless, it was an ambitious undertaking and an entertaining success.

Kangaroo On A Humid Autumn Evening

Kangaroo. That one awkward word seems to sum up the whole year's activities of the Drama Club. The year was busy for all members as they produced two successful plays, The Crucible and the spif comedy Kangaroo On A Humid Autumn

Evening. The Crucible was a successful production, under the direction of Mr. Jim Royale, and the twenty-some member production cast. The smash hit of the year, however, was Kangaroo, which was the first totally student written-directed-and produced play here at Heritage. From conception, to the birth of the play, everything was done by an HHS student here. It all started when the board members discussed it, then they decided to try it. Treasurer Matthew J. Schutt took it upon himself to write the play, then later when no one else stepped forward to direct or produce, Matt took that upon himself too. Now all he needed was a great stage manager, well he couldn't find one, but came close with the team of Heather J. Clark and Lauren Lambertson and, following the selection of a superb twenty-one and a half member cast and crew, it was off to a great start. The set was the major obstacle. The talented team that pulled this off were:

Matthew J. Shutt, Heather J. Clark, Lauren Lambertson, and Kristen Schutt, and of course Mike Duffield (the door's wouldn't have stood up without him). The viewer sitting in the audience might have said that the set looked whipped together, and whoever planned the color scheme must have been color blind, but they took the longest to prepare. Clinton Weiss, the technician in charge of lighting and special effects, made a highly difficult job look easy. He had to try to please the bizarre request of the director, such as making toilets light up, and making fish talk, but he handled it quite well, except for practically being deaf. The cast pulled off the dialogue and was warmly received by the audience. The play, being about a young boy (Warren Sheldon played by Erich Brown) who is the only living-breathing person on the planet earth chased around by other beings-- "robots" if you please-- had deeper meanings. It dove into the realm of reality (if one exists), providing a view for the audience at the alienation we all must go through in our lives. The stunning role "The" was portrayed by

Turning Out Talent

93' Talent Show

This year's Talent Show was a success. Although it was not put on as usual by the Drama Club, due to unforseen circumstances, the T.V. Productions picked up the tradition and it turned out well. Seniors Eric Gustafson and Tom Quackenbush organized the whole production. Several Heritage students turned out to present their talent. Junior Melissa Cole sang a solo "The River", Farrah Madsen performed a piano solo, Chris Sligh and Mike Laz sang a duet, Jamie Fitzpatrick performed a drum solo, groups such as: Scarfs, Colorform Whiplash, Scapegoat, Glass Gypsy, and Joe & The Wookies performed interesting original songs, as well as renditions of famous ones. The show was a great success, and enjoyed by the student body.

In Loving Memory...

Kevin Berg Now that you're up there with the thebig party in the sky You always knew how to live life through, almost more alive than anyone else You could inspire anyone to have a good time, and you know you could I guess God just couldn't wait any longer for you to be there with You proved to us all that this sort of thing can happen, Kevin And someday we'll all be up there with you So tell my grandparents I said "hi" and take care up there, kid and know how much we all love you.

-Wendy O. Gildenstern

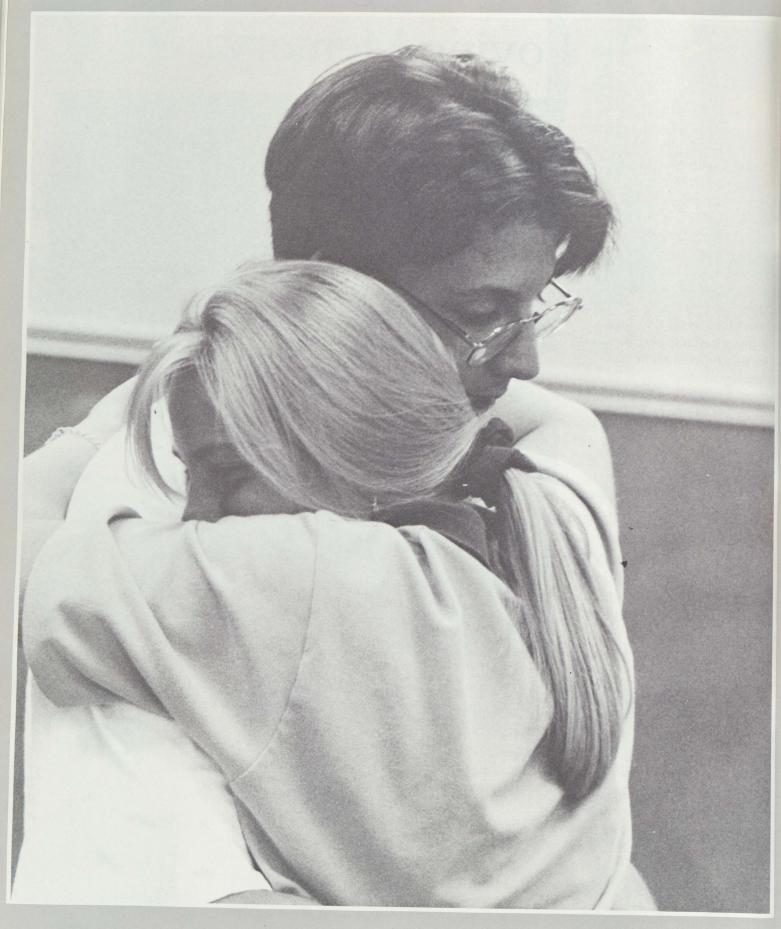

Here is a prime example of Kevin's humor, he was a dear friend of many. Those who knew him well, knew that he was a truly exceptional person, and full of life.

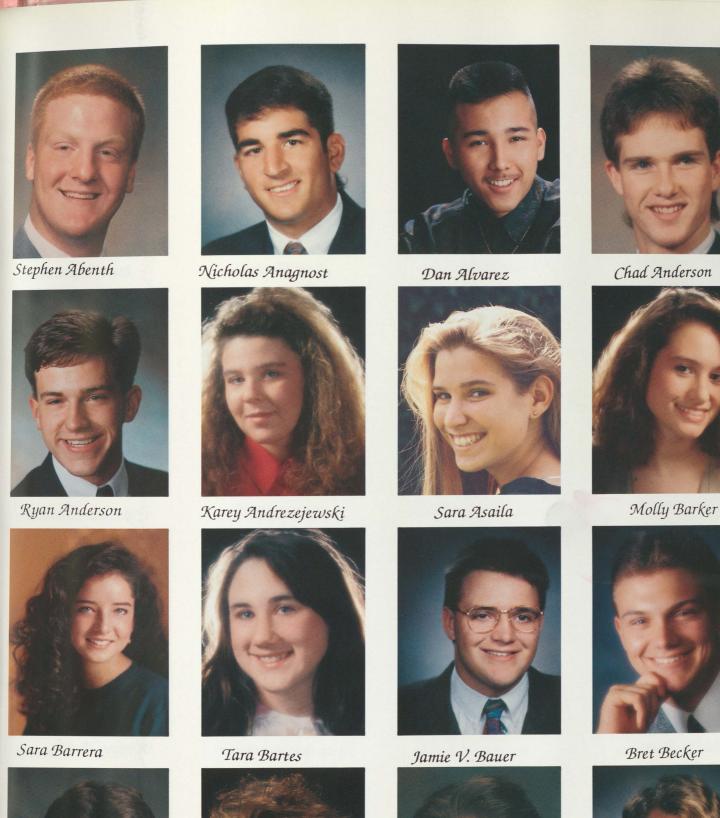

Kristen Detloff, and Kevin Berg are two members of the senior class who were absent from the graduation comencements this year. Kristen was left brain dead resulting from from an automobile accident last winter. She is now staying at home with her parents. Kevin was tragedly taken from us this year over Spring break, as a result of a automobile accident involving the car he was a passenger in, and a tractor-trailer truck. The car was struck from behind and the driver was suffering from medical problems, and did not even realize he had struck the vechicle. Kristen and Kevin had many friends, and they are remembered as individuals who made a difference, and were full of life. It is a great sadness to have them away from us, but we must remember the good times that we shared with them. Please sign this page as if it were Kristen's and Kevin's senior yearbook. We ask that you always remember them. As they are absent from our lives, let us remember them, and keep them in our hearts, until we meet with them again.
